It's day 3 of the Amazing Blitz and a lot of action Saturday. Those saws were working over time. Blitz Build volunteers come from all over the country to lend a hand. A man named Greg Morse says this is something he does every year, and this is his 14th year.

"It's such a blessing to come out and helps someone who may or may not otherwise get a house," Greg Morse said.

You may have noticed some familiar faces out there. KSFY reporter Alex Ronallo, photographer Robin Black and news director Kevin King all came out to lend a helping hand.
